With Councilman Umlauf alone vot ing in the negative, the Common Council last night adopted the Administra tive Board substitute resolution accepting the free loan of the Virginia hospital and leaving all questions of operation to be adjusted by agreement between the board and the Medical Col-lege of Virginia.

Its passage put an end to the prolonged controthat centred about the question of admitting family physicians to prac-tice, by leaving that point, as well as the question of the appointment of the staff to be settled later.

"I am confident that the Administra-tive Board and the Medical College of Virginia will have no trouble in agree ing upon a plan of operation," said John Hirschberg, last night. "It will be our effort to secure its operation in the best interest of the city of Richmond, and with a proper regard for the good of the college."
